

My in-laws are not competent and have been suckered into too many solicitations that are dubious in nature. In addition, it has been a joy to have uninterrupted meals and family time in the evenings. I strongly recommend that the "do not call" be continued.